

All India Institute of Medical Sciences Bhubaneswar is one of the 6 AIIMS created by an Act of Parliament in 2012. AIIMS Bhubaneswar is set to become the Centre of Excellence for medical education, health care and re- search.

For attaining excellence in teaching continuous training of teachers is desirable. Microteaching is an organised teaching improvement technique where the experimental teacher teaches a small group of audience (peers), which is recorded for review after each teaching section. Feedback in microteaching is critical for teacher-trainee improvement. The built-in feedback mechanism in micro-teaching acquaints the trainee with the success of his performance and enables him to evaluate and to improve his teaching behavior.

The Department of Physiology, is organizing the workshop on Effective teaching through Micro-teaching and Feedback. This workshop will be facilitated by Dr B. V Adkoli, Ex-Consultant, Centre for Medical Education & Technology, AIIMS, New Delhi.
